Fundraiser Bruce will try rugby cycle ride

BRUCE Elkins, accountant, rugby fan and charity fundraiser par excellence, has launched a bid to raise £20,000.

The CW Fellowes director, pictured, is planning to mark 20 years of charity challenges with an epic cycle to every Guinness Premiership rugby ground.

Bruce will set off in September from Newcastle Falcons' ground Kingston Park and cycling south via all their rivals to finish at the Stoop in Twickenham, the home of Harlequins eight days later.

A final leg will see him pedal his way home via his own club, Tottonians, based in Totton, which he played for from 1975 to 2000. It's just the latest in two decades of challenges that started with the Totton triathlon and has since seen him cycle from London to Paris and the length of the country.

Bruce will be raising funds for Wessex Cancer Trust and Rose Road Association. The attempt is sponsored by London Irish sponsors The Graham High Group but he is also looking for firms to sponsor individual legs of his journey.

To get involved email baelkins@cwfellowes.com or telephone 023 8024 7070.
